

REMARKS UNDER 37 C.F.R. 1.111

Please note that Attix is not relevant to the present invention because Attic simply describes a dosimeter probe made from scintillator 18 made of a material that approximates water or muscle tissue in atomic number and density in a water tank (see patent abstract) which has no relation to the present invention on energy exploration or any other. Nor can anyone learn from Attic how to build down hole devices of the present invention.

CONCLUSION

Reconsideration and allowance of all claims is requested.

Respectfully,
